1. Indledning

Dette valgfagskatalog skal læses i sammenhæng med studieordningen for Professionsbachelor i Leisure Management (samt tilhørende uddannelsesbilag). Leisure Management uddannelsen udbydes udelukkende af Zealand – Sjællands Erhvervsakademi og dette valgfagskatalog er fastsat af Zealand - Sjællands Erhvervsakademi.

2. Fagelementer udbudt som valgfag

Valgfag skal udgøre i alt 20 ECTS af uddannelsens samlede antal ECTS. Heraf skal 10 ECT udbydes som valgfag på uddannelsens 6. semester. Der kan på uddannelsens 6. semester vælges mellem tre valgfag, som er beskrevet yderligere i det følgende.

Valg af valgfag foregår ved, at de studerende orienterer sig i valgfagskataloget. Uddannelsens valgfagskoordinator og valgfagsundervisere tilbyder desuden en valgfagscafé med orientering om valgfagsudbud og mulighed for at stille spørgsmål til fagindhold m.v. Tidspunkt for valgfagscaféen vil fremgå af årgangens skema.

Heresfter angiver de studerende deres ønske til valgfag i en formular, udsendt af studieadministrationen. De studerende orienteres pr. mail om denne formular samt om deadline for valg af valgfag.

Er der flere studerende, der ønsker et valgfag, end der er pladser på faget, fordeles pladserne af studieadministrationen. Det tilstræbes så vidt muligt, at man får sin 1. eller 2. priorititet.

Da alle valgfag i foråret 2024 undervises på engelsk, er de følgende beskrivelser af valgfagene på engelsk.

2.1. Tourism Management

Content:

On paper, tourism is seductive and appealing, sparking associations to romantic beach scenes, azure waves and quality time with our loved ones. As a global industry it plays an important role for both wealthy nations and developing economies. However, tourism also has a darker side as a driver of increased crime rates, poverty, wear and tear. Without responsible tourism management, we risk eroding the destinations that tourists come to see. Thus, we need to develop an understanding of the concept of sustainability and of responsible approaches to tourism development, for example in relation to the environment and the local population. Tourism offers significant economic benefits, such as increased economic activity, currency exchange and job creation, but ideally, it needs to be practiced responsibly.

The Tourism Management course takes its point of departure in the current situation and brings in external presenters and thematic assignments with current relevance. You can expect course work revolving around destinations, companies, attractions and tourist behavior as well as high expectations of your preparation and independent activity in the classroom. The course builds on knowledge acquired in previous courses that have addressed the topic of tourism and aims to expand your knowledge of the tourism industry.

2.2. Sport Management

Content:

In recent decades, sport has come to play an increasingly central role in society. Sport has an amazing capacity to unify people and create national and international points of reference in people's minds; it is also among the areas that engage the largest number of volunteers.

Especially during the time of COVID-19 restrictions, we have seen that sport is a high-priority area, as demonstrated by the realization of big and small events, such as the Danish Superliga football tournament and the Olympics. Professional sport in particular revolves around big and small international events, whose broad appeal cements the role of sport in society.

However, sport is about much more than what happens on the field or on the track. With the entry of big money and professionalization many sports clubs face the challenge of striking the right balance in the transition from being associations to being professionally run companies. In this course, you can combine your interest in sport with skills that enable you to handle sporting events and take part in the management of a sporting organization. With an emphasis on the practical aspects of sport management, the course includes the active involvement of commercial sport organizations and offers you unique insights into the world of sports and an overview of future job opportunities.

The purpose of the course is to offer an introduction to and understanding of sport management, the particular characteristics of sporting organizations and the tasks involved in the management and development of sporting organizations.

The course covers the following topics: Sports history, strategic sport management, the sport industry, sport marketing, sport economics, media and sports, fundraising, trends and developments in modern sport management, HR and talent management, the structure of the sport industry, ethics and doping, legislation related to sport, sport and consumers/fans and internationalization and globalization in sport.

2.3. Transmedia Event Management and Video Production

Content:

Since the Live Aid concerts back in 1985, events and experiences have increasingly come to span wide geographic distances and are carried by mass media across a growing number of platforms. Today, we not only see events taking place simultaneously in several locations at once; we are also seeing the emergence of a mix of live and on-demand events, a trend that requires increasingly sophisticated transmedia management, planning and production.

Think of Tour de France in 2022 that attracted more than 41.5 million broadcast viewers and a unknown number of fans along the roads and attending affiliated events. Think of Elon Musk's TEDtalk from 2017 on Building the Future with more than 30 million online viewers, and think of Travis Scott x Fortnite Astronomical Concert in 2020 that attracted more than 12 million viewers online. To date, the concert has had more than 208 million showings on Travis Scott's own YouTube channel alone. In a time when the Covid-19 pandemic hit the traditional event and leisure industry hard, this concert was an exemplary demonstration of the use of transmedia and its commercial possibilities. Possibilities that lie ahead and a potential that is probably not yet fully explored.

Transmedia Event Management and Video Production not only requires interdisciplinary planning, collaboration and careful coordination across time and space. It also requires insight into adjacent business areas that may previously have seemed more clearly separate. The Travis Scott x Fortnite concert was a textbook example of the growing integration of events, media, music and gaming.

In the Transmedia Event Management and Video Production course, you will be working on a specific event case, where transmedia management plays a crucial role, for example within fashion, comedy, e-sports, music or the culinary scene or art.

This elective further aims to prepare the student to work with the production of real-life and/or on-demand events across media. The course provides theoretical knowledge of and practical experience with media-based event production, promotion/PR and execution across media and platforms. Among other elements, it builds on the third-semester course in Event Management but with a particular focus on the before-and-afterlife of the transmedia event, which may include video production for various platforms among other things.

International component:

This elective is offered with the option of an international component in the form of a short credit-recognized stay abroad with a physical minimum duration of 5 days, and a student work load corresponding to 3 ECTS. If the elective course is primarily offered in Danish language, the international component means that a portion of the subject which is equivalent to 3 ECTS, will be conducted in English. If the elective is offered in English, the entire course will be offered in English. The study abroad stay will be at Zealand's partner institution, LIBERA UNIVERSITA DI LINGUE E COMUNICAZIONE IULM in Italy. For a description of the concrete study abroad stay, please refer to Moodle

Students who choose to participate in the international component of the course must be aware that attendance is mandatory for the planned educational activities, both the mandatory virtual component as well as the physical component (the stay abroad). Participation will be a prerequisite for taking the exam. The international component is assessed separately (pass/fail) at the end of the stay abroad and must be passed. Failure to fulfill prerequisites means that the student cannot take part in the elective exam, and a trial attempt has been used. Students who take part in the international component of the elective subject will have a note added to their diploma stating that the subject has included a successful credit-recognized stay abroad of 3 ECTS. See further description of the exam in the elective course's exam description, which is common to all students on the elective course.

Learning goals:

Knowledge:

- Possesses basic knowledge of transmedia event management
- Possesses knowledge of the logic and characteristics of the media and event industry and of related synergies
- Possesses knowledge of different forms of media and event consumption and demand patterns

Skills:

- Is able to identify and undertake project development in relation to different needs, trends and possibilities within the two industries (media and event).
- Is able to plan, produce and present transmedia solutions and appropriate video production in connection with a media-based event
- Is able to assess and apply relevant theoretical schools of thought, perspectives and models in relation to the above

Competencies:

- Is able to understand and describe the basic competitive conditions and demand patterns that characterize the industries (media and event)
- Is able to integrate knowledge about competitors and consumers in strategic decisions and practical transmedia solutions
- Is able to assess and evaluate media and transmedia solutions commercially and critically
